Notice.

DIFFICULTIES arising from the nature of the following work, the publisher has been compelled to remove to Philadelphia for the better execution of his plan. The editorial department has in consequence fallen into other hands. Mr. ALLEN's present engagement rendering it impossible to superintend it in another city. The friends and relations of the different signers to the Declaration of Independence are therefore requested to direct their favors to the publisher, No. 443, Market-street, Philadelphia.

PROPOSALS

By Joseph M. Sanderson,

For Publishing by Subscription, A Biography of the Signers

OF THE Declaration of Independence,

Accompanied with Plates.

To which will be annexed a History of the Proceedings of Congress, during the passage of the Law, and the Declaration itself, with the fac simile Engravings of the Signatures.

By JOHN SANDERSON.

TO THE PUBLIC.

When we consider the personal qualities of the statesmen whose names are affixed to the Declaration of Independence, the perilous occasion which demanded the exercise of their wisdom and deliberation, and the influence of their councils on the interests of mankind, we must acknowledge that very rarely a more imposing spectacle has been offered to the world, and we shall seek in vain in the annals of nations, for an event more worthy of commemoration, and of being cherished forever in the hearts of a grateful and generous people. The love of independence is interwoven with the frame and constitution of the human mind. It is almost the first sentiment that animates the infant's features in the cradle; and amongst all the actions and enterprises of man, none has awaked into activity a greater exertion of the virtuous energies of his nature, none has excited a greater warmth of veneration, and has more imperious claims upon our gratitude, than resistance to tyranny and political aggression.

In all republican states the first tribute of genius has been paid to the patriot or the hero who has promoted the cause of liberty and maintained the independence and dignity of man. The animated canvas and breathing marble have rescued his features from the grasp of death, and the pen of the historian has inscribed the achievements of the imperishable records of fame. It would indeed be no laborable prognostic of the perpetuity of our republican institutions to discover an insensibility to the obligations we owe the memory of the illustrious patrons of American freedom. They have raised us, by their magnanimity, from the arbitrary dominion of a foreign power, to the distinguished elevation of a sovereign and independent people; they have asserted and maintained the imprescriptible rights of humanity by the mutual pledge of their pledge of their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honors; and, as long as virtue holds her empire in the hearts of their successors, the example of these generous benefactors will not be lost to the world; their names will not pass away nor be forgotten, or their glorious deeds be confounded in the common and casual transaction of life.— Ingratitude is a vice that in nations, as well as individuals, indicates the last degree of degeneracy and corruption; it is a vice that implies the absence of every virtue; it was in the age of Caligula that the name of the Scipios was proscribed, that the state of Brutus brought death on its possessor.

"The glory of our ancestors is the light of posterity," and the homage of the living cannot be offered to the merits of the illustrious dead with an effectual or sterile admiration. Great and splendid actions will seldom be achieved by men who have humble or ordinary objects in prospect. It is by contemplating the life and character of those who are marked out from the multitude by their eminent qualities, that we become emulous of their virtues and their renown. The trophies of Miltiades interrupted the slumbers of Themistocles; and Theseus, hearing the exploits of Hercules, was fired with his spirit, and became the successful rival of his fame. The rude savage of the desert listens with rapture to the deeds of his ancestors, and hangs around his hut the emblems of his father's valor.

More need not be said to enforce the utility of the publication we have undertaken, and which we now submit to the patronage of our fellow-citizens, with a hope, that from the liberality of their encouragement, we shall be able to present it to the public worthy of their approbation. We must depend for the illustration of many of the characters of our surviving relatives and friends, to furnish us with whatever interesting materials may be in their possession; for which, with our grateful acknowledgments, we promise a copy of the entire work as a compensation.

CONDITIONS. I. The work will be published in numbers or half volumes of 200 pages, octavo, and contained in ten numbers. To the first will be prefixed an appropriate frontispiece—and the work will be commenced with the declaration of independence, with engraved fac similes of the signatures, and a compendious detail of the proceedings of congress, during the passage of the law. Each of the lives, unless when it is impracticable, will be preceded by a likeness of the person, engraved by the best artists in the United States.

II. It will be printed on fine paper, made expressly for the purpose, and delivered to subscribers at two dollars and fifty cents per number, payable on delivery.

A late Bermuda paper asserts that bars of base metal, in imitation of silver, have been recently fabricated and sold at Kingston, Jamaica; which, on being assayed, were found to consist of copper, zinc, a small proportion of silver and arsenic.—These bars are sent to the Spanish Main—there coined into bits, &c. and then conveyed to Jamaica, where they have been foisted upon the public in large parcels—one mercantile house having received nearly 300*l*. of them, before the cheat was discovered. It is said, that the 8*th* and 9*th* of William III. making the vending such compositions felony do not extend to the colonies.

Quebec, Oct. 28.

There was a talk in the spring of reinforcements for the Canadas, but, now at the close of the navigation, not a soldier has arrived, except the usual recruits to keep up the few corps in the country, to the peace establishment. There only arrived this season the York Chasseurs, who were disbanded on their arrival. The visit of the late governor to the upper province, it is well known, was more with a view to internal improvement than for military purposes. It is impossible to tell what might be the consequences of a violent taking possession of the Floridas by the United States, what may be the guarantees of any existing treaties between Great Britain and Spain; but there is nothing in this part of the world, that indicates even a thought of an approaching war with the United States, on the part of the British government.

RIVER ST. LAWRENCE,
at anchor off William Henry, Nov. 1.

Since you visited this country very considerable improvements have been made, but none so pleasing to the traveller, as the introduction of steam boats. There are now seven good boats between Montreal and Quebec, to wit : the Malsham, Lady Sherbroke, Swiftsure, Car-of-Commerce, Telegraph, Carledonia, and Quebec. On board the last vessel I am now writing ; and certainly every traveller will acknowledge that this boat is not inferior to any passage boat between Philadelphia. She has every accommodation of the Chancellor Livingston or the Hudson ; in addition to which, an elegant band of martial music is constantly on board for the amusement of the passengers. The urbanity of captain Hall, her commander, entitles him to the esteem of the numerous passengers who go in this boat. It would be improper to omit that most of the other boats are furnished in an elegant style, and their commanders are men who merit the esteem of their passengers. The Malsham, Lady-Sherbroke, and Swiftsure are owned by John Molson, esq. who was the first person that introduced steam vessels on the St. Lawrence, and to this gentleman Montreal is indebted for many improvements. The Car-of-Commerce, and Telegraph are partly owned by Americans, and partly by residents of this country. The price of passage to Quebec from Montreal in the cabin is 10 dollars. in all the vessels, except the Telegraph, which is at 5 dollars, with the addition of 6s. Halifax currency, a day for board. Storage passengers are taken at 1. 50 in all the boats.

It appeared in the course of the proceedings in the session of the commission, that in Nov. 1818, a memorial was presented to his grace the duke of Richmond on the part of the North West Company, praying that a special court of oyer and terminer might take place, to hear and determine all cases arising in the Indian territories. An early reply was given, that a court would open for that purpose on the 21st of October, 1819, and that the crown would, in due time, give notice to the parties. On the 24th of May last, the earl of Selkirk, notwithstanding that his lordship had, as appeared by his private memorial produced in court, also petitioned government in this country, in October, 1813, that a commission of oyer and terminer for the same purposes should issue; had explicitly stated to government, that the private persecutor (the earl of Selkirk) was not ready, and that probably the earliest time when he might be ready would be the autumn of 1820! An intimation to this effect was, in consequence, given on the 20th of June to the principal agent of the North West Company, then absent from the province, and actually in the Indian territories; a period when it was much too late, even had the thing in itself been reasonable; and the preparations for the approaching expected trials, though at a great expence, necessarily went on, pursuant to the first notice. However, on the 2d of October, the parties accused found it expedient to lay a memorial before the president against any further protraction of their trials; in reply to which, his honor stated that a commission for oyer and terminer for the trials of offences committed in the Indian territories had been issued on the 29th of April, 1818, and was continued by adjournment to the 21st of October, and would open on that day, "where legal course and redress must be sought for by the persons interested therein."

Early in the session two bills of indictment were preferred by the crown, and found by the Grand Jury, against Mr. Williams, Mr. John Clarke, Mr. John McLeod, Captain Matthey, Sergeants Vitchy and Welling, and several Mueron soldiers, all in the service of the Earl of Selkirk, or of the Hudson's Bay Company, for the assault and false imprisonment in the month of June last, at the Grand Rapids in the Indian Territories of Mr. Shaw, Mr. M. Tavish, Mr. Campbell, Mr. Frobisher and Mr. Mackintosh, partners of the North West Company, with several of their head canoe-men.

By the brig Catharine, Capt. Wesman, we

Nothing of moment offers for communication. I have already informed you that the report of an engagement between the St. Fernando, and the Pajuro, resulted in falsehood; were I to communicate all the rumors that hourly assail the ear, you would have to 'setop the Press,' to announce the most astonishing revolutions, the most remarkable occurrences, and the most miraculous 'hair-breadth-scapes,' 'that type could letter.'

Insurance Cause.—Hammond v. Reid.
Sergeant Hullock said this was a case founded wholly on admission, and was rather a point of law for the judges to decide than a matter of fact for the jury to try. The ship Arabella had been insured from Para, in South America, to New-York, with liberty to call at Barbados, or any other island in her passage. The vessel accordingly took in a cargo of staves and other lumber at Para, and proceeded to Barbados, where she discharged this cargo, and took in a cargo of sugars for New-York. The captain wishing to ascertain the state of the market at St. Thomas, with a view to some ulterior commercial operations, stood in for that port; but night coming on, they laid to, until morning, when it was found that the vessel had drifted six or seven miles, which it was necessary to work up, and in doing of which the vessel struck upon a sunken rock and was lost; and the only question was, whether this deviation from the ship's course was included within the terms of the policy? If the vessel had struck under similar circumstances in attempting to get into Barbados, there could have been no doubt in the case.

Lately as Mr. James Smith, a farmer in the parish of Fintray, was driving home his cattle, a large bull, which he had bought for a breed, suddenly attacked him, and killed him on the spot, his head being driven in between two stones in a dyke, and literally shattered to pieces; a man who came to his assistance was much bruised, and narrowly escaped the same fate by shutting himself into a barn: and such was the ungovernable rage of the infuriated animal, that every attempt to secure him proved fruitless, so that it was found necessary to shoot him, for the safety of the people collected on the melancholy occasion.

When his Booth was acting Brutus, at Newcastle-under-Lyne, in the last scene he strained the jugular vein so much, whilst bewailing the death of his son, that a vast quantity of blood was thrown into the head and produced a singular effect to apoplexy. He was falling over the tribunal seat, when two of the company imagining he had overbalanced, from relying on their being a back to it, assisted him, and by bending him forward, circulation was restored, and he awoke as from a dream. He had just strength and memory sufficient to repeat the last line of the tragedy. — No ill effects have occurred from it.

Last Sunday the following ludicrous circumstance occurred:—A Clergyman not far from the town of B—, in this county, on ascending the pulpit, discovered that he had unfortunately lost his sermon; when after apologizing for the accident, he dismissed the congregation; but on his descending from the pulpit, he rejoiced with exceeding great joy, that he had found the lost sheep, and sent his clerk out into the highways to bring back his flock, which was accomplished in a few minutes, and the service was resumed, and concluded to the great comfort and edification of all parties. *(Both, (Eng.) refining Egyptian sugar, and distilling rum from the molasses obtained. A recent traveller asserts that he has completely succeeded; that the sugar is equal to any loaf sugar we see in Europe; and the rum so excellent, that all the great Turks are forgetting the sober and salutary precepts of the Koran.

A few days ago, Mrs. Bell, a widow woman, in Annan, went into her meadow to milk her cow, when another cow, with horns, which was grazing in the same meadow, ran at her, threw her down, and was in the act of goring her, when her own cow, which was at a distance, came running up, attacked the horned cow with great fury, and effectually succeeded not only in relieving, but, in all probability, saving the life of her mistress.

Some of the Editors in London do not rate the abilities of Mr. Philips, the celebrated vocalist, very highly, or are not very friendly to him. The following paragraph is extracted from the Courier, of Sept. 13.

"Mr. Phillips has performed Lord Aimwell. We venture to predict this gentleman will not maintain a very high station as a vocalist. His voice has not the slightest natural melody in its tones, and he vainly strives to conceal this radical defect by attempts at scientific ornament. His station as a singer will be between Duruset and Pyne. He introduced "Love's young Dream," but whoever recollects how Braham sings that charming air, will never sit with patience to hear Mr. Phillips. His manner was totally destitute of pathos, taste, and expression. He occasionally tries to imitate Braham, in those outpourings of voice which are so grand and overpowering in the latter. Let Mr. Phillips, we have little else than plain downright bawling."

In ancient times in populous countries, for want of employment for the people, civil wars were often waged, sometimes foreign wars were undertaken to prevent domestic quarrels, sometimes stupendous but unnecessary labors were engaged in to give business to the people, and sometimes public games were established to divert them from pernicious views.—In modern times, refinement and luxury have produced artificial wants, the supplying of which affords additional to human employment, the remedies, in a degree, the evils complained of in old times. The increase of printing has also diffused intelligence more generally, and given more exercise to human reason.

S. Drew, Merchant Tailor,

Removed from Fairfax-street to the corner of King and Columbus streets, and his prices falling.

RESPECTFULLY acquaints his customers and the citizens in general that he has removed as above, where he by him a small but well assorted stock of goods, which will be found on inspection to be of the best quality, the whole of which he wishes to sell for cash, and as further inducements to purchasers he offers to cut out any goods, bought of him to any size or pattern gratis.

S. Drew aware, of the advantage a ready money business has over one where long credit is given, thinks that a distinction ought to be made in the prices in each case; and as the price of provisions are low at present, he is glad to be able to announce to those customers who will feel disposed to pay him ready money for his work, that he will reduce the price of making to them according to the present journeymen's wages; and to prevent any supposed imposition on the one hand or dissatisfaction on the other he is willing to be governed by the printed regulations of prices by which the journeymen are paid in Alexandria.

N. B. Bread, flour, beef, groceries, liquors or any thing valuable taken in exchange for clothes.

S. Drew has this day opened a tavern in the same house, where he has laid in a supply of Philadelphia and the district porter and ale, together with liquors of the best quality, and he feels confident that he shall be able to give satisfaction to all who will please to favor him with a call.—He is fitting up his house for the accommodation of boarders, travellers, &c. and from its central situation, good beds and stabling, together with other requisites, he presumes that it will be found a convenient establishment.

Was Committed,

TO the jail for the county of Alexandria on the 3d inst. as a runaway, a negro man called BEN HENDERSON, supposed to be the property of George Thornton, of King George county. The said negro is about 50 years of age; 5 feet 6 inches high; bald head; and a shoemaker by trade. The owner is desired to come prove property, pay charges, and take him away, otherwise he will be disposed of as the law directs.

ANDW. ROUNSAVELL, Jailor.
September 8

100 Dollars Reward.

RAN away on the 28th of April, from the farm of the subscriber, in Dogue Neck, Fairfax Co. Virginia, a negro HARRY, aged about twenty three years, about five feet ten inches high, very black, well built, has a considerable impediment in his speech, when spoken to evinces much confusion, and replies almost unintelligibly; had on when he left home, a much worn suit of domestic cloth. I have every reason to believe that he is endeavoring to pass for a free man, and as such went off in some of the bay craft during the late fishing season. All masters of vessels are forewarned from harboring or taking into their employ said negro, under penalty of having the law rigidly enforced against them. I will give twenty dollars, if taken in the county of Fairfax, or district of Columbia; if beyond that distance, the above reward, provided he is secured in jail so that I get him again.

WM. MASON.
Charles County, Md. June 1.

The editors of the National Intelligencer and Baltimore Federal Gazette will insert the above until forbid, and send their accounts to Port Tobacco for payment.

June 11

100 Dollars Reward.

I WILL give the above reward to any person who will return to my possession, negro LAWRENCE, who assumes the surname of FENWICK. This fellow left my farm, on the Wicomico river, in Charles county, Md. on the 6th July; in consequence of his own outrageous conduct towards my overseer. He is a negro of a fine erect figure, good features, smooth black skin, rather above the middle stature, of a youthful appearance for one of thirty years of age, and of great plausibility and natural smartness. His ears grow remarkably close to his head, and on the inside of his lower lip he has a white mark or spot. I purchased him 4 years ago of the estate of Mrs. P. H. Courts, of this county. I am led (by circumstances which have come to my knowledge since he absconded,) to believe that he will endeavor to make his way to King George county, Va.; should he not take this route, he will probably be met with in the District of Columbia, or in the upper counties of this state, on his way to Pennsylvania. I apprehend he will change his name, and if committed to jail, refuse to state to whom he belongs, as the misconduct which preceded his departure, & his absconding, have all appeared since to have been premeditated. He took all his clothes with him, of which he had a large number; among them—a new bearskin overcoat, a long close-bodied blue coat, a pair of striped jean pantaloons, one or more white waistcoats, besides many articles of coarse clothing; these, however, he will probably exchange, or sell them for cash to defray his travelling expenses.

I will give the above reward to any person who will bring him home to me, or FIFTY DOLLARS if confined in jail, and notice given me, so that I recover him.—Should he be taken out of the state, I will also pay all reasonable costs and charges which may attend the bringing him home.
